The Phoenix Bridge company was given a contract to construct a steel viaduct across the narrow part of the Alhambra Valley, in Contra Costa county. The viaduct is to be 1,880 feet long, 75 feet above the level of the valley bottom, and will consist of heavy masonry, on which tall iron towers will be constructed; on top of these will rest the viaduct, which will, when finished, be one of the sights of California. and of high and low degree are being brought in from various sources. This provoked discussion but was finally disposed of in such a way as to injure the feelings of no one, although the speech made by Mr. Titus concerning the Quantrell claims set some of the members to thinking.

M. De Jeant, Socialist, asked that the obsequies be purely civil.

This drew forth murmurs and protests from the Rightists and Centerists, who threatened to leave the chamber. The president of the chamber of deputies, M. Deschannel, interrupted M. De Jeant several times, calling upon him to respect the stricken family of the deceased.

M. De Jeant's motion was rejected by a vote of 441 to 83 and the credit was adopted by a vote of 462 to 42.

The chamber unanimously decided to attend the departure of the body from the Elysee palace on Thursday, although the procession will really only be formed after leaving the cathedrai of Notre Dame. I wish we could have a commis-sion to investigate this subject and see if there has been crookedness in these transactions.

During the past year Col. H. L. Tay-lor of Wichita has purchased a number of these Quantrell claims and has taken pearing 4 per cent interest. It is claimbearing 4 per cent interest. It is claimed that the law does not permit Mr.
Taylor to take such action because of the fact that he purchased the claim outright and does not represent the original claimant or his heirs and assigns. Taylor's friends believe that the law is broad enough for him, under the power of attorney, to effect settlements of this character.

Hasson's endezzement of the season's endezzement of the s Skaguay, Alaska, Feb. 3, via Scattle, Feb. 21.—The task of building a railroad tiong the precipitous side of the canyon

It was suggested that perhaps there are now not filed several, perhaps doz-ens of raid claims which will come up at some time for settlement. Ten have at some time for settlement. Ten have been disposed of in the past six months and of this number eight were settled by Col. Taylor, as a private enterprise. The claims of course are purchased at a great discount and the certificate for the face value is a good investment.

What the senators want to know is whether or not the claims for which thether or not the claims for which ertificates have been issued are really existence or whether some unauthorized person has at some time in years past issued some certificates without warrant. Of course persons having ac-cess to the office of the state auditor cess to the cince of the state author might gain possession of some of these certificates, which are already signed in blank and paimed them off. These cer-tificates are paid by the treasurer on demand or bear interest at 4 per cent as the owner may elect.

The fact that as the years go by the Quantrell claims increase has created a suspicion in the minds of some of the senators that perhaps an injustice has been perpetrated against the state at some time in the past and the proposition for an investigation is based upon the theory that the state should be in-formed of the true condition of this war

TO BENEFIT MINERS. Ryan's Bill to Enable Miners to Cash Scrip Will Pass the House.

Senator Ryan's bill concerning the manner in which laborers shall be paid has been recommended for passage by the bouse committee of the whole. It was claimed that it would only affect the miners of the state, who are paid in scrip, and all the members from the mining districts in the southeastern part of the state asked that it be passed. It provides that any check or order must be dated on the day it is given and must be cashed within fifteen days This provision, it is explained, will enable miners to use their scrip in trade at stores other than company stores.

The Finney county commissioners have tried to make a respectable road over these sand hills in order to draw trade to Garden City, but the road is still almost impassable. SHUTS UP SALOONS. Result of a Week's Revival in Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 21.-Chattanooga for the past week has been upon the crest of the revival wave. It opened with a mere curious attendance of people, with here and there a sprinkling of the truly religious. In two or three days the immense auditorium, which was built by the city for the pur-pose of entertaining conventions, could not hold the crowds. Out of all this religion came politics. Chattanooga has always been a very liberal town in its views, saloons re-maining open all night. The fickle God-dess of Chance had also a modest abiding place within the confines of the city Many of the best citizens cut their wis-dom teeth upon the ivory of patriotic Alderman Thomas McMahon, after a conference with a number of ministers, presented an ordinance closing saloons at 16 o'clock each night. It went through the board flying. Now unless an in-junction, which seeks to set aside the filegally, holds, there will be a period at Chattanooga in which saloons will be closed after 10 o'clock at night, and the Sunday laws will be rigidly enforced.
